Registration to Vote Hits State Record

Arkansas Registration By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arkansans registered in record numbers to vote in the Nov. 3 general election, and State Auditor Jimmie Jones predicted today that total registration would hit 700,000.

The record was 633,000 last year. In 1960, the last presidential election year, 603,795 registered.

An Associated Press poll of county collectors showed virtually every county registered a record registration.

The deadline for paying the poll tax to vote in all races Nov. 3, or registering free to vote only in federal races, was midnight Thursday.

Very few persons registered free. Most paid the poll tax. Jones increased an earlier estimate by 30,000 after his office was delayed Thursday by requests for additional poll tax receipts.

The auditor shipped 18,600 poll receipts to 16 counties. He said many of these counties were making second and third orders for additional receipts.

Jones said 61 counties — all but 14 — requested additional receipts at one time or another before the deadline.

Counties which got by with their original allocation were Bradley, Carroll, Cleveland, DeFuria, Fulton, Izard, Little River, Madison, Montgomery, Newton, Scott, Searcy, Stone and Woodruff. Most of these are rural counties with small populations.

Jones said it will be at least 10 days before his office can compile official figures on tax receipts issued in the counties because the law allows county collectors 10 days to file reports.

The heaviest Negro vote in Fulton, who is heading a Negro history was indicated. Ozell

Dock Men Ordered Back to Their Jobs

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal judge has ordered 60,000 longshoremen back to work in Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico ports but the piers remained idle today.

"We all went out together and we'll all go back together," said President Thomas W. Gleason of the striking AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association.

Union officials met today to set in motion the procedures for getting the longshoremen back on the job in compliance with the restraining order issued Thursday night by U.S. District Judge Frederick van Fleet Bryan.

The judge acted on a declaration of national emergency by President Johnson.

The order was signed after the customary 3 p.m. hour of "shaping up" the dock gangs for the following day's work.

Union officials said this hiring practice was the reason for the delay in bringing the piers back to life.

Some pickets showed up at New York docks this morning, saying they had not received orders from their union shop stewards to pull down picket lines.

A little later the union notified all ports to withdraw pickets and stand by for return-to-work instructions.

There were indications that waterfront activity would not "fully" return to "normal" until Monday because shipping and stevedoring firms would have to pay premium rates for work done tonight or during the weekend.

The regular work day in New York started at 8 a.m. — just 12 hours after the judge signed the papers aimed at an 80-day cooling off period to allow time for further efforts to break the three-month deadlock in negotiations on a new contract.

Union leaders, however, did not immediately issue back-to-work orders to the men, who struck at midnight Wednesday.

A spokesman for Gleason said he would call a meeting of union officials this morning to make preparations to get the men back on the job in the Port of New York.

In some other ports, Monday was considered the most likely time for resumption of work. In still other ports, union officials said work might resume today or tonight.

Sign-carrying pickets begin disappearing from the waterfront as word of the court order got around.

Judge Bryan's order restraining the strike is good for 10 days. Bryan scheduled a hearing for next Thursday on the government's request for a preliminary injunction ordering an 80-day cooling-off period under the Taft-Hartley Act. The 80 days presumably would include the time starting at 8 o'clock Thursday night.

If no agreement is reached by the end of 80 days, the longshoremen will be legally free to resume the strike.

Judge Bryan said the order was necessary to remove "a peril to the national health and safety."

A negotiations deadlock over threatened loss of jobs through automation in the loading and unloading of cargo was a major factor leading to the strike. The unloading of cargo was a major factor leading to the strike. The employers seek to reduce the 20-man work gangs by at least three. They contend modern cargo handling methods justify the cut.

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — A reservoir burst Tuesday near Machherla and the government-run All India Radio said more than 100 persons drowned.

Farm Land Value Leads the Nation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arkansas led the states in the 1964-65 fiscal year in per cent increase in the value of farmland, an Agriculture Department survey showed today.

All states showed increases in per acre values, but Arkansas led with 12 per cent. The national average increase was six per cent in the 12-month period ending July 1.

The report showed that American farmland is getting more expensive despite drought, rising production costs and slipping prices and farm income.

The department said the market value of farm real estate on July 1 was about $155 billion, up about $9 billion over a year earlier. The average value per acre was estimated at $141, up $7 over a year earlier.

The survey showed that voluntary sales of farm land were four per cent greater than a year earlier — averaging 29.6 per 1,000 farms.

The reason for rising farm acres prices, the department said, is that less and less income from agriculture is needed to pay labor because of the increasing use of machinery. This encourages farm enlargements. Reflecting both enlargement of farm units and higher land prices, the average value of the nation's farms was $49,300 on July 1 compared with $45,700 a year earlier.

873,000 Vehicles Are Registered

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The federal Bureau of Public Roads estimated Thursday that Arkansas will have 873,000 registered motor vehicles by the end of this year.

That would place the state about 30th in the list of states, behind all the states that adjoin Arkansas except Mississippi.

The estimate is based on figures supplied by the state Revenue and Highway departments which showed that 58,877 automobiles and 240,916 trucks were registered in the state last year.

G-P Plans Expansion at Fordyce

FORDYCE, Ark. (AP) — Georgia-Pacific Corp. announced Wednesday a $1 million expansion of its southern pine plywood plant here.

William Norman, vice president and general manager of G-P's Crossett Division, said the expansion would increase the plant's production by 30 million square feet per year.

Work on the expansion began this week, Norman said.

About 75 employees will be added to the payroll when the expansion is complete, bringing the firm's total number of workers at the plant to 350. It has an annual payroll of about $1.5 million.

Some of the new equipment should be in operation by next Jan. 1, Norman said.

The Fordyce plant, which went into operation in December, was called the first of its kind in the world for the manufacture of plywood from Southern pine. A second such plant is under construction at Crossett.

Arthur P. West, manager of the plywood division, said 32,000 square feet of floor space would be added to the Fordyce plant's 110,000 square feet.

Production will increase from 90 million square feet of plywood to 120 million square feet, the announcement said.

Mrs. Johnson to Visit Arkansas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson may visit Arkansas on Oct. 27, an aide to the First Lady said here Thursday.

"It's on the drawing board," said Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter, press secretary for Mrs. Johnson. She said the visit, which would be to Fort Smith, is not definite.

Reports circulated Thursday that President Johnson and his wife might visit Little Rock, also. Mrs. Johnson might visit Arkansas' capital city Oct. 27, rumors said, or the President might visit Little Rock on Oct. 10. Neither of these reports could be confirmed.

Mrs. Johnson stopped at Texarkana last week when the President dedicated a memorial to the late President John F. Kennedy.

"Mrs. Johnson loved her visit to Texarkana," Mrs. Carpenter said. "She wants very much to spend a day campaigning in Arkansas and Eastern Oklahoma."

Pesky Is Fired by Red Sox

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox fired Johnny Pesky as manager today and named third-base coach Billy Herman as his successor.

The news came in a statement from Mike Higgins, vice president and general manager whom Pesky had followed as field pilot two years ago.

Higgins said Herman had been signed to a two-year contract. Salary terms were not disclosed.

Pesky had been hired on a season-to-season basis.

Herman, one of the great second basemen in the National League with the Chicago Cubs and Brooklyn Dodgers, 1931-48, had his only other big league managerial opportunity in 1947.

He was acquired by Pittsburgh in a multi-player swap with the Boston Braves that year. Under his partial season direction the Pirates wound up in a seventh place tie.

Herman, a Red Sox coach since 1960, takes over a team which has finished deep in the second division for six straight years and is now in eighth place — lowest under the three decades of Thomas A. Yawkey's ownership.

Herman, 55, holds several major league and national circuit records as a second baseman although he also had brief stints at third and first as a player. His lifetime batting average was .304 highlighted by a .341 at Chicago in 1955.

He played in four World Series and batted .433 in 10 all-star games.

Evacuation Starts as Hilda Heads to Louisiana Coast

By BEN THMAS

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Hurricane Hilda shifted her course toward the north early today and aimed the fury of her 150 mile-an-hour winds at the deserted marshlands of the Louisiana coast.

With previous killer hurricanes as a grim reminder, thousands fled the low-lying sections of Louisiana for the safety of the interior.

Hilda — most severe hurricane this season — altered its course from northwest to north-northwest near daybreak and lashed at the offshore oil rigs.

Rising tide forecast all along the coast with Cameron — where Hurricane Audrey killed more than 500 in 1957 — reporting a 3.5-foot swell.

At 6 a.m., CST, the New Orleans Weather Bureau said Hilda's center was 260 miles south-southwest of New Orleans.

That means that the nearest point of land to Hilda was Marsh Island, a wild life refuge about 230 miles to the north.

Hilda — first Gulf hurricane this year — kept forward at 7 m.p.h.

The northward turn had been predicted by forecasters in New Orleans.

The latest advisory said Hilda's eye — the calm center which spins out howling winds at 150 m.p.h. — would continue moving north-northwestward during the next few hours and then a slow turn to a more northerly course is indicated.

Hurricane warning flags were hoisted along all of the Louisiana coast west of the mouth of the Mississippi River.

The New Orleans Coast Guard said it had sketchy reports from a ship 348 miles southwest of the Louisiana coast — or somewhere near Hilda's eye — but declined to say if the vessel was in distress.

The Weather Bureau said coastal tides from Galveston, Tex., to Mobile, Ala., would reach five feet by sunrise with higher tides as Hilda moved closer to shore.

"Hilda has the potential to produce tides of 12 to 15 feet near and just east of the center as it crosses the coast but the storm is too far from the coast to make detailed wind and tide forecasts at the present time," the Weather Bureau said.

Negro Try to Get on Ballot Questioned

STAR CITY, Ark. (AP) — A Negro attempting to qualify as an independent candidate for Lincoln County representative has been ordered to appear today before the county election commission with 92 persons whose names were on his petitions.

William Green, a farmer and justice of the peace, filed petitions with more than 300 signatures to be a candidate in the Nov. 3 election for the position held by Rep. G. D. Smith Jr.

The commission challenged 92 of the signatures earlier this week and ordered Green to bring the 92 persons to the courthouse to prove they had signed the petitions.

"It was very evident that there were so many of the names written by the same hand—that's what we questioned it mainly on," said W. V. Burns, commission chairman.

He said every person Green brings to the courthouse will have to take a handwriting test.

Green needed 242 valid signatures to qualify as an independent candidate. If he produces about 40 persons who can convince the commission that they signed his petition, this apparently would qualify him for the race.

The would-be candidate said he would attempt to get all 92 persons to the courthouse.

Two of the challenged signatures, Green said, were those of his wife and daughter-in-law.

"I stood right here and watched them sign," he said. "There might have been one or two bad ones, but nothing like 92," Green said.

Congress May Brush Aside Two Measures

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two key administration measures — aid to the aged ill and to the Appalachia poor — may be brushed aside as Congress sprints toward adjournment.

The reapportionment rider already has been yanked from the foreign aid bill.

As if flipping the calendar page to October made them suddenly aware of how fast election day is approaching, members of Congress are exhibiting a sudden zest to get their work done and get out on the campaign trail.

But when they will close up shop — and whether they will be called back to Washington after Nov. 3 — is a mystery at this point.

Before the House today is $4.25 billion worth of appropriations, and once this fiscal clock is blown it will be hard to hold the members — all of whom must stand re-election if they want to stay in Congress — in Washington.

To complete the fiscal work of the long 1964 session, the House is being asked to vote on a $1-billion supplemental money bill for the added requirements of several government agencies and on the Senate version of a $3.25-billion foreign aid appropriation.

The authorization which sets the ceiling for this spending cleared a conference of House and Senate members Thursday night stripped of all reference to Supreme Court-ordered reapportionment of state legislatures. It was a long fight over this aid bill rider which tied up the Senate for weeks and helped prolong the session.

If the full House and Senate give their approval to what the conferees did, the small band of liberals who fought to uphold the Supreme Court's "one man-one vote" decision will have won an even larger victory than they expected.

For all that had remained of Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen's proposal to delay for at least a year action on the Supreme Court's decision that both houses of state legislatures be apportioned purely on population was a mild "sense of Congress" declaration which would not have been binding.

It was designed to allow district courts, in their discretion, to (1) permit state legislatures to (2) permit the next elections for state legislatures to be conducted on the basis of state population.

State Caught by Hurricane Cold Wave

Arkansas, caught between a cold front and a hurricane, is due for a weekend of uncertain weather, the U.S. Weather Bureau indicated today.

Heavy rains and cooler temperatures are forecast.

The bureau said showers and thunderstorms should move in to Northern Arkansas by this afternoon and across the state tonight.

Hurricane Hilda may bring heavy rains to Southern Arkansas, but their duration depends on the path the storm takes.

Foreman Cement Plant to Expand

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—W. R. Stephens, Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. president, announced Tuesday plans for a $13 million expansion of the Arkansas Cement Corp.'s plant at Foreman. The corporation is an Arkla subsidiary. Officials of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission call it the largest dollar expansion ever programed in an existing Arkansas industry, Stephens said. The expansion is to begin immediately. It would increase capacity of the plant from 2,200,000 to 5,000,000 barrels of cement annually. The plant now employs 250 persons. It would hire 100 more after the expansion, which would provide jobs for 500 persons, he said.

Year's most talked-about new cars

'65 Chevrolet Impala Sport Sedan—with a roof line all its own.

'65 Chevrolet Impala

It's '65's biggest, most beautiful change. There's striking new styling. New length, width and lowness. A roomier new body by Fisher housing an interior that's a knockout—with richer looking fabrics and new curved side windows. Also a showpiece of an instrument panel with the look of walnut in the Impala series. And a more serene Jet-smooth ride that's rooted in a new Full Coil suspension system and Wide-Stance design. Fact is, if you overlook just one thing you can easily convince yourself you're onto a big expensive car here. And that one thing is its Chevrolet price.

New Corvair Corsa Sport Coupe—with new higher powered range of engines.

'65 Corvair Corsa

There's never been anything like it from either side of the Atlantic. From the new top-of-the-line Corsa series to the Monzas and lowest priced 500's, there's new thin-line hardtop styling for all closed models. More length and width, more entrance and shoulder room in all models. Dramatically new interiors. A flatter ride with a more solid feel stemming from a new independent suspension and wider wheel stance. And a higher powered range of engines—with up to 180 hp available in the Corsas. How sporty can a car get? Your dealer's got the Corvair that'll show you.

laws in effect Sept. 20. Now even this watered-down proposal appears dead. Whatever faint hopes administration forces had that the plan to enact health care for the aged would be approved by this Congress were all but extinguished Thursday when a conference committee that has been trying to work out a compromise bill broke up in stalemate.

The chairman, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., scheduled another session today. But Mills and other House conferees are adamantly opposed to the program.

The proposal for hospitalization benefits for persons retired under Social Security was added by the Senate to a House-passed bill increasing the basic Social Security retirement.

It appeared likely the committee will be asked to drop the health plan for this year and work out a compromise between the House scale of retirement benefits and the higher one voted by the Senate. These could go into effect before the end of the year.

The second major Johnson proposal still pending — the $1.06-billion Senate-passed bill to rehabilitate the Appalachian area — is a victim of absenteeism.

Administration forces are reluctant to put the controversial measure to a House vote without some certainty that enough of their troops are on hand to pass it.

"DEAR ABBY"

HE'S NO TWINKLE TOES!

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: My Julius is the only man in our crowd who doesn't dance. He never learned, and he won't even try. He just says he doesn't have any rhythm. I told him I didn't care whether he had rhythm or not. I only wanted him to get out on the dance floor and walk around with me so I wouldn't have to sit and watch everyone else dance. Nothing can bug him. He's not old. He is 42. He says I knew he wasn't Gene Kelly when I married him. Don't you think if he really loved me he would try?

JULIUS'S WIFE

Dear Wife: His "love" for you has nothing to do with his refusal to dance. Get off his back and you might have a better chance of getting him on his feet.

Dear Abby: I am 18 years old and am considered responsible and well-behaved by everyone but my mother. She doesn't trust me where boys are concerned. She says that I am too young to have anything to do with boys. I have been asked for dates by several nice boys, but I have had to refuse every one of them because of my mother's strictness. My father is no help because he doesn't believe in taking sides. Can you help me?

BABIED

Dear Babied: Your mother should be talked to by someone whose judgment she respects. In my opinion if you are considered a well-behaved, responsible girl, you should certainly be allowed to date. Girls who have been denied the experiences of dating go wild when they get their first taste of freedom. Your mother may mean

Dear Mother: Wait until your husband is in a good mood and then have a heart-to-heart talk with him. Don't attempt to reform him overnight with your amateur analysis (you could be wrong), but do prevail upon him to exercise a little more patience with the boy.

Dear Abby: When a 16-year old girl goes for a ride in a car with a boy, how close should she sit to him?

CRITICIZED

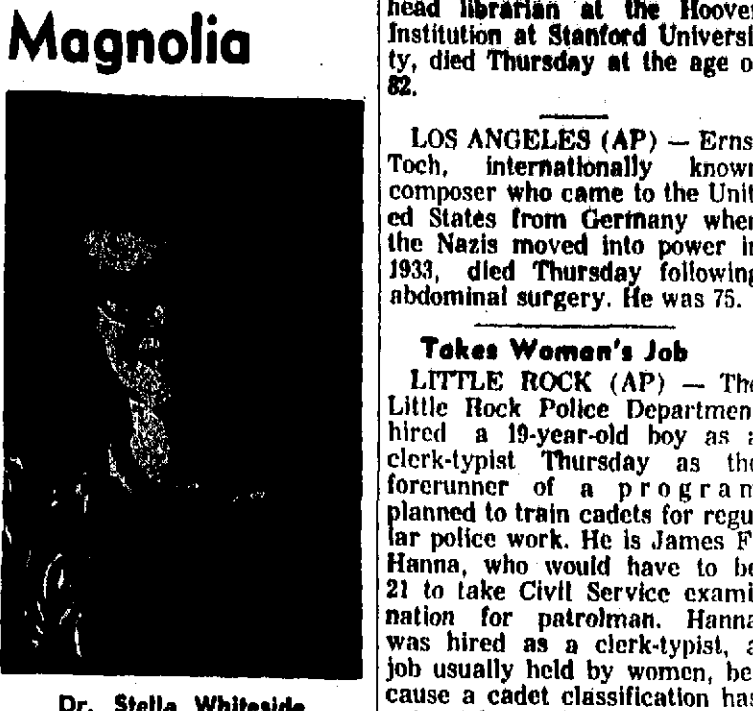

Dear Criticized: Close enough to talk — but not close enough to be talked about.

Thought For The Day
A Teacher's Prayer
Grant me the wisdom that I may see each little child as part of Thee. Give me the patience to meet the test of enabling each child to do his best. Make me fair with each child I teach so that his confidence I can reach. Grant me the wisdom that I may see. This my God, is a teacher's prayer. — Isaac S. Harmon said it.

Meet in Darkness

By Stephen Ransome
Copyright © 1964 by Stephen Ransome. Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The Story: Hugo Sander has been kidnapped. A ransom note has been delivered to his house and read by Sander's wife Valma and Dick Craig, his associate in the making of commercial films.

The telephone rang in the north half of the duplex cottage on Poinsett Lane. It sat on a small bamboo table at one end of a studio couch. Allen Landall walked slowly past without turning to it. For the past 20 minutes he had been wandering back and forth and around the room aimlessly.

"Allen, why don't you answer the phone?" Ignoring the woman's voice, he went on drifting like flotsam on an uncertain, changing tide. He was 40. His straw-colored hair was cut in a flat-top burr in an effort to conceal a growing bald spot. One short year ago he had been keeping himself in fine shape. Trim and firm-muscled, with a workout almost every day in the handball court of the New York Athletic Club. Now, thanks to a climate he found debilitating, the endless torrid summer having melted the starch out of him, his belly was rounding and he was showing an all-over softness.

The woman sitting on the couch reached for the instrument. Her graceful hand had not yet touched it when it stopped ringing. The silence was like a rebuke. She was disconcerted. He laughed at her wondering on.

"You were happy in your work in New York. You miss it very much. You want to go back, and yet you don't, because you're afraid of another failure. I think what you'd like to do is just play the rest of your life."

"Beautiful idea, Lyn. A really beautiful dream."

She added with quiet bitterness, "But not with me."

"I'll never be able to do it, you know. Nobody every will get rich working for Hugo Sander."

He kept staring at her. This woman had willingly and gleefully accepted all his expensive gifts. Well, she had always worked for a living until she had quit her job to follow him down here. Before that he'd been with Streeter, Kopp and Bulmer, one of the comparatively few advertising agencies that actually had a Madison Avenue address. He had been the assistant executive on the United Foods account, not quite so juicy but still fairly sweet. He'd been active in the television end, a weekly variety show. In the chorus line he'd spotted a long-legged, easy-smiling redhead who called herself Lyn Shawn.

Her real name was Thelma Kinzer.

Allen Landall still couldn't clearly understand what had happened to him in New York. He'd been riding so high, and suddenly he'd thumped down to bedrock for reasons that had never been spelled out to him—except that he'd been pretty sure the whole mess was his boss's fault. Hugo Sander's offer had come at the precise psychological moment of darkest despair. Instead of brushing it off as a laughable insult, he had grabbed it—to his regret. It was dull work.

The phone had begun ringing again. This time Lyn didn't wait she answered quickly. She said, "Yes, he's right here," and held the handset toward him. "Dick, he sounds... anxious."

Immediately she seemed anxious for him. Peculiar girl he thought again. She tried to share his every feeling. She didn't want to let him out of her sight. This duplex was her idea; he had one side, she had the other. She paid her own rent, and since she hadn't found a decent job down here, her savings were melting away. Their front doors weren't five steps apart, but there might as well have been a chaperone on guard. He lived, by the old puritanical precept. Not until we're married. She desperately wanted him to marry her. He remembered how close he had come to asking her; he thought how smotheringly possessive she would be, and he drew a deep, free breath.

"What's up, Dick?"

While listening, he was aware that Lyn was watching him with a worried little frown. Dick's message jarred him; his face stiffened as he glanced warily at her. "Sure, Dick, sure, right away, leaving now."

Replacing the phone, he said tersely, "Business, Lyn. Something's suddenly come up. See you tomorrow, honey. 'Night."

Her bewildered green eyes widened as she watched him hurrying out. Something Dick had said had had a strange effect on him. She had seen an unreadable expression cross his face and instantly he had controlled it. Now he was outside, the door quickly closed behind him; and she heard him laugh to himself.

Starting Hog Quarterback Questionable

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The railbirds said Thursday that Fred Marshall was ready to resume the quarterback role for Arkansas, but Coach Frank Broyles didn't say one way or the other.

That left in doubt the question of whether Bill Gray, who piloted the Razorbacks to a 14-10 victory over Oklahoma State and a 31-22 triumph over Tulsa, would return to the defensive secondary.

Gray played quarterback because Marshall was sidelined with a deep bruise in his right shoulder, and because sophomore quarterback Ronny South was injured and lacked experience.

Marshall looked good in practice this week and threw passes apparently without bother by the injury. He drew most of the attention on offense. Gray played mostly defense.

The team leaves today for Fort Worth, Tex., and Saturday's regionally televised game against the Horned Frogs of Texas Christian University.

Jim Fauer, a stand-out Southwest Conference halfback, is top runner in the TCU offense; which Arkansas Coach Jim Mackenzie says he fears.

Broyles called Arkansas' 2-0 record to date a product of luck because "we are not a good offensive team and we're not any better on defense yet."

Even so, it was the defense and a string of breaks that allowed Arkansas to beat Tulsa. The Hurricane held a 14-0 lead before Ron Caveness intercepted a pass and got Arkansas a touchdown. A fumble recovery by Caveness led to a field goal and three short punts set up other Arkansas scores. He finished second in the Associated Press "lineman of the week" poll.

Broyles has planned to exploit Arkansas' good passing attack, with either Marshall or Gray on the throwing end, and good receivers in ends Jerry Lamb and Bobby Crockett and wingback Jim Lindsey. But so far the Razorbacks' passing hasn't dented the defenses.

Madison County was named for Madison County, Alabama, which was named for James Madison, fourth president of the United States.

Hope, Malvern Battle Could Mean Dist. Title

Tonight is a big one for the Hope Bobcats and the Malvern Leopards. They go into the game tied for the district lead and only one, barring a tie contest, can emerge on top.

Defense is expected to play a large part. Both teams appear hard to score on and Malvern especially is stingy against a running attack which Hope features.

Both coaches and players of both teams figure this is a must game, although both are taking a second look at newcomer Warren which also remains in the running.

From any viewpoint this will almost surely be one of the better games Hope fans will see this year. The kickoff is for 7:30 p.m.

Additional entertainment for the fans will be the Hope and Malvern bands plus the University of Arkansas Marching Razorbacks who are on their way to Fort Worth. After performing at half-time the Porker Band will continue its journey and perform again at the Razorback-TCU game Saturday afternoon which will be televised.

The Band, 125 strong, reflects the latest trends in colleges placing heavy emphasis on the use of precision drill routines, anti-popular tunes.

Dr. Richard A. Worthington is the director.

One of the largest crowds of the season is expected for tonight's football game and half-time entertainment.

Punt, Pass, Kick Contest Planned Here

Hempstead County area boys eight through 13 can start signing up Monday, October 5, for the fourth annual National Punt, Pass, & Kick competition, with prizes and trophies for youthful football enthusiasts most skillful in punting, passing and kicking.

Registration headquarters in Hope is Hope Auto Co., where entries will be accepted from Oct. 5 through October 15. Entrants must be accompanied by a parent or guardian; the competition is free to all grade and age groups through 13, and no special equipment is needed. There is no body contact involved.

Each participant also will receive a safety reflector for his bike, a PP&K patch for his jacket and a PP&K cap.

Hempstead County boys will compete only against others of their age groups in punting, passing and place-kicking skills. Winning 8-, 9- and 10-year-

Arkansas, TCU Game to Be Televised

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Three of the top college football games scheduled this weekend are clouded by the questionable status of key quarterbacks — Rollie Stichweh of Army, Roger Staubach of Navy and Jimmy Sidle of Auburn.

Staubach, the 1963 Heisman Trophy winner, and Stichweh both are reported ailing from ankle injuries, but last-minute indications are that both will play.

Sidle, ace of Auburn's unbeaten and seventh-ranked team, has an injured shoulder to take into an important Southeastern Conference match with Kentucky, author of the biggest upset of the young season.

The action gets under way tonight with three major games on schedule: Cincinnati at Detroit, New Mexico at Brigham Young and Furman at George Washington.

Possibly the top match on Saturday's program has sixth-ranked Navy visiting eighth-ranked Michigan. The Wolverines, one of the top choices in the Big Ten, have a powerful ground game to throw at the Middies, who build their attack around the multi-talented Mr. Staubach.

Army, unbeaten in two games, visits Austin, Tex., for both the Cadets' first-ever night game and their first encounter with Texas, the defending national champs, currently top-ranked and unscored on in two starts.

The mighty Longhorns, who play possession ball and just grind it out, are two-touchdown favorites over Paul Dietzel's three-platoon team. Stichweh, big gun in the Army attack, was injured in a victory over Boston College last week.

Alabama, ranked fourth in the nation, and an easy winner in two starts, is atop-heavy favorite against Vanderbilt at Birmingham, Ala., Saturday night.

The Midwest has a corner on much of the major action. Redlegs Gain Slightly on Idle Cardinals

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer

Gene Mauch has run out of moves, except downward perhaps, but Johnny Keane and Dick Sisler still have time to maneuver their teams into the National League pennant.

Cincinnati's Sisler made a key move Thursday night, deciding to use reserve catcher Jim Coker instead of regular John Edwards, who hurt his hand the night before.

Coker responded with a single, a double and his first home run of the season, sparking the Reds to a 5-4 victory over Pittsburgh that moved Cincinnati to within one-half game of Keane's first-place St. Louis Cardinals, who were idle.

Coker's second-inning single drove in the Reds' first run after 34 scoreless innings. He doubled and scored in the fourth, then snapped a 3-3 deadlock with his homer off Steve Blass in the sixth. That put Cincinnati ahead to stay.

The 28-year-old catcher has been the property of six major league teams since he reached the majors in 1958. The Reds purchased him from Denver of the Pacific Coast League Aug. 23. Before Thursday night, Coker had played in nine games and batted .280 with two runs batted in.

There was no immediate word on whether Coker or Edwards would be in the line-up tonight when the Reds play their next-to-the-last game of the season against Mauch's once-potent Philadelphia Phillies.

The Phillies still are working on a 10-game losing streak and conceivably could tumble into fourth place behind San Francisco.

While the Reds are battling Philadelphia, the Cardinals, winners of eight straight, will play the lowly New York Mets. If the Reds win their two remaining games, the Cardinals would have to win all three of theirs to finish first.

St. Louis can eliminate the Phillies and the Giants from a trace by beating the Mets to night.

In other NL games Thursday, San Francisco trimmed Houston 6-3, Milwaukee whipped New York 7-3 and Chicago nipped Los Angeles 4-3.

In the American League, Detroit delayed New York's pennant clinching by beating the Yankees 4-2 and 5-2, Baltimore defeated Washington 2-0, Kansas City edged Minnesota 5-4 in 12 innings and Boston beat Cleveland 4-2.

The Reds scored the decisive run in the seventh inning on a triple by Vada Pinson that Jerry Lynch couldn't handle in left field and Frank Robinson's double. The Pirates rallied for one in the eighth as Dick Schofield doubled and Bill Virdon singled.

Sammy Ellis relieved Joe Nuxhall, though, and snuffed out the Pirates' threat. Nuxhall 9-8, had taken over from starter Bob Purkey after Roberto Clemente singled across two runs in the fifth.

Juan Marichal won his 21st game even though he gave up 10 hits to the Colts. Tom Haller backed Marichal, who had lost eight times, with a homer and a run-scoring single in a four-run third inning. Willie Mays singled in two runs in the outburst.

Tigers Host to Spa Team Here Sat.

The Yerger High School Tigers will play Hot Springs in Hammons Stadium Saturday night, October 3. Yerger's Tigers have worked hard all week on a much needed pass defense. They are going to use some new running plays and passing formations.

Hot Springs will out-weigh the Tigers 15 pounds to the man but Coach Nevels and Coach Straughter have vowed to use speed and deception to overcome the weight of Hot Springs.

This will be the game of the year for Yerger. If Yerger wins this one they should go all the way for the rest of the season. The Tigers will depend mostly on its powerful defense unit. They are using a new type of defense formation. Come out and support your Tigers.

In the nation, is a one-touchdown favorite over a Michigan State team that will be trying to rebound from an upset; third-ranked Illinois could have its hands full in Northwestern passing ace Tom Myers, a game that could have a major bearing on the Big Ten outcome; Ohio State, ranked fifth in the nation and again sporting a brutal ground game, is solidly favored over Indiana.

Tigers Delay Yankees at Least a Day

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer

That little old champagne taster, Yogi Berra, still is manipulating numbers today after the New York Yankees' pennant express ran afoul of the Detroit Tigers.

Berra, who has become accustomed to the taste of that bubbly stuff almost every fall in his 17 years as a Yankee, was all ready for his annual sip after New York swept two from Detroit Wednesday, reducing their magic number to two.

But the Tigers turned right around and knocked off the Bombers 4-2 and 5-2 Thursday delaying the clinching of New York's 29th pennant at least another day. If the Yankees whip Cleveland and Kansas City takes Chicago, Yogi can whoop it up again. But Berra isn't depending on the A's.

Two Yankee victories in the three-game set with the Indians will end all the speculation and that's what Yogi is shooting for. The runners-up aren't dropping by the wayside themselves as evidenced by Baltimore's 2-0 blanking of Washington Thursday which kept the Orioles' chance to tie alive. So, figures Berra, the best way to wrap it up is for the Yankees to win two.

Of course if the Athletics care to cooperate by knocking off Chicago or Detroit happens to top Baltimore tonight, Yogi will gladly accept the help.

The Tigers weren't much help Thursday, coming from behind in the ninth to pull out the opener against rookie Mel Stottlemyre and then getting a six-hitter from rookie Dennis McLain to win the nightcap.

Dave McNally permitted just one hit—a seventh-inning double by Don Lock—in blanking the Senators for Baltimore.

In other American League games, Dick Radatz made his 78th appearance and chalked up his 25th save as Boston dropped Cleveland 4-2, and Kansas City got a 12th-inning homer from rookie Larry Stahl to whip Minnesota 5-4m.

In the National League, Cincinnati moved to within a half game of league-leading St. Louis with a 5-4 victory over Pittsburgh. San Francisco downed Houston 6-3. Milwaukee slapped New York 7-3 and Chicago defeated Los Angeles 4-3.

Stottlemyre nursed a 2-1 lead through eight innings of the opener against the Tigers. But Detroit loaded the bases in the ninth and Gates Brown's single knocked in the tying and lead runs. Don Wert's sacrifice fly produced another as Mickey Lolich picked up his 18th victory.

It was Brown again in the nightcap scoring two of the three runs off loser Rollie Sheldon. He scored on a wild pitch in the second and rode home on Werts triple, after his second straight single in the fourth.

McNally had a no-hitter for 6-23 innings before Lock's shot broke it up. A walk and a wild pitch put the runners in scoring
